1. Where is the truth that will cure the world's madness?
Where is the truth that will help us to live?
Why are we circled by turmoil and sadness?
Where is that peace that the world cannot give?
2. Weary are those who have lost their direction
Cold is the one with no love in his heart
Fearful are those with no hope of protection
Empty the life where the Lord has no part.
3. Power, corruption and evil surround us
Truth is obscured as the clouds hide the sun
Out of the darkness let light shine around us
Not our will only, but you will be done.
4. Out on the hillside a new era dawning
Shepherds bewildered by news of the birth
Songs of the angels that first Christmas morning:
Glory to God, and peace on the earth.
5. Here is the truth that will cure the world's madness
Here is the truth that will help us to live
Joyful the messae to banish our sadness:
News of the peace that the world cannot give.
